AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

S. P. SMITH, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes:

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results to my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and in all their functions, as regular as clockwork. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 120 pounds; I now can brag of 120 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market today."

A murder trial at Duluth yesterday ran over a woman and the fall she received broke her neck. The man was arrested.

The Minnesota world's fair commissioners have given the state building and $2,000 cash to have it removed from the grounds.

The most wealthy man in Minneapolis, Elisha Morse, testified in court that his son was a forger, to prevent the payment of a big sum of money.

The Todd County News is a new venture at Long Prairie by Simmons & Hall. Todd county was well supplied with first-class newspapers before.

But three saw mills are running in Minneapolis, the rest having shut down for the season. It is stated that not many men will be sent into the woods until after snow flies, by the down river firms.

The New York female anarchist, Emma Goldman, will interest herself during the next twelve months at Sing-Sing. If every person who utters such sentiments as she did at Union Square were looked up for life the country would be better off.

When it came to the election of officers for the Christian Endeavor Society there was quite a fight over the presidency on denominational ground. The Methodists have had the office for two years and a Congregationalist thought that a Baptist should have it, but a Presbyterian finally won. -Fergus Falls Journal.

The postoffice department has made a ruling, according to a telegram, that postmasters should not be asked to furnish, and should not furnish the addresses of patrons of the office to creditors or others desirous of ascertaining their addresses or whereabouts. The decision says that except for the purpose of delivering mail to them the postmaster is presumed to have no knowledge of the patrons of the office.

Tough on the Clerks.

St. Paul merchants are determined to root out the gambling mania among their employes if possible. The Jobbers Union of that city has notified all employes that any found frequenting pool or gambling rooms will be discharged. They will take measures to discover employes who disobey the rule. It has become more of an evil that employers must organize to protect themselves from the habit of employes to gamble. -News.

What It Costs.

It costs a lot of money to keep detectives hanging around the homes of pensioned veterans, in search of some excuse to deprive the pensioners of all or a portion of his allowance. In the regular pension appropriation bill for the current fiscal year there was an item of $200,000 for the investigation of pension cases; that is, to pay expenses incurred outside of the regular machinery of the pension bureau. Although only a little more than one-fourth of the fiscal year has gone all of that $200,000 appropriation has been expended and Secretary Hoke Smith has asked congress for an additional appropriation of $300,000 to be used for the same purpose. -St. Peter Tribune.

Unlawful to Kill Fawns.

The state law for the protection of game prohibits the killing of "any fawn at any time," but fails to define what a fawn is. Hon. Fred von Baumbach, state game and fish commissioner, wrote Attorney General Childs recently asking him to construe the word fawn, says the Globe.

The attorney general yesterday forwarded to Mr. von Baumbach the following reply:

"We may safely adopt as the definition of a fawn that given in the Century Dictionary, viz: 'A young deer; a buck or doe of the first year.' A year covers the period when it's spots are worn and during which it is commonly regarded by sportsmen as a fawn. Besides, it begins the procreation of its species during the second year. You are therefore advised that it is unlawful to kill the young of deer during the first year of its existence."

Are These Things True?

The Minneapolis Tribune in its Saturday edition among other things of the Northern Pacific, has the following to say of the "cut off."

Another thing invested or to be examined, according to these reports, is the famous "Cut Off" line, from Little Falls to St. Paul, on which many hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent, a new town built up at the division and the injury of others, as claimed and on the further charge that there was a very neat little speculation in the scheme of the town lot order. The points in this town lot order, furnished for use in the late hustling for stock to be voted in the election. Enough was furnished to the Tribune regarding this to afford a sensation, if it proved to be well founded. It is said that persons holding high positions in the company came in for their share in real estate speculation, in return for secret information given out, or tips, on the purposes of the company as to buildings and improvements after it was commenced. It is said that the line has proved of doubtful utility, and was constructed at a big price by favored contractors. In other words that there was sharing of profit among certain men connected with the company. Other rumors of disclosures relate to operations on the coast suggestive of the same sort of business. It is said that some officers of the company are charged with having been "in it," in the ownership of many of the enterprises started all along the line, for which, however, disgraced the money in one way or another can be traced to the treasury of the company.

Joseph Markham, the legislator under indictment on two charges of having offered to receive a bribe was to have been tried Thursday but owing to a rush of other business, his cases were reset for Nov. 22—Minneapolis Journal.

Last Chance of the Season.

The low round trip tickets to Chicago now sold by the Northern Pacific offer the best and last great inducement of this year to visit Chicago and the world fair.

You can now make the round trip for less than the usual one way rate. Don't miss this chance, to see the greatest wonder of the 19th century.

How Cigarettes Are Made.

The details of the manufacture of cigarettes are kept, to a greater or less degree, a secret by manufacturers, each of whom has his own peculiar combinations of tobaccos. None of the brands on the market are composed of one kind only. The receipt is not divulged outside of the firm. But this is not all. The original mixture is merely a basis for artificial flavoring. To begin with, various essential oils are added.

The list of these includes rose, geranium, vanilla bean, Tanka bean, and licorice root. These ingredients are added after the tobacco has been chopped into shreds in readiness to be rolled into cigarettes. Finally the particular drug chosen, in the shape of liquid solution, is sprayed on the material with an atomizer, while the tobacco is stirred and mixed. The quantity employed is carefully judged so many drops being allowed to each cigarette. For obvious reasons I cannot mention all the drugs that are used in the manufacture of cigarettes, but there is no doubt that opium, valerian, and cannabim indicia are utilized to the largest extent. Each manufacturer may be said to create a special drug habit among those who use his brand, so that they are not satisfied with any other. -Troy Times.

G. G. Hartley's Claim is Knocked Out.

Washington, special, Oct. 19.—In these dispatches a day or two ago reference was made to a decision of Secretary Smith, of the interior department, in which he denied the application of G. G. Hartley of Duluth for a review of a certain departmental decision. The case is an interesting one and the language of the secretary in recording his findings is of more or less interest as well. The history of the case shows that Herbert Smith filed a pre-emption entry on lot 6 section 15, and lots 1, 4 and 5, section 22, town 57, range 24, St. Cloud series, now Duluth land district, Dec. 9, 1882. On May 24, 1884, W. Eaton, a special agent of the department, reported that Semid had never complied with the law as to a residence, cultivation or improvements, had conveyed the land to D. M. and Gilbert Clough. Accordingly it was held for cancellation. Clough Bros. applied to the department on May 16, 1886, for a reinstatement, and while the testimony offered was of a character to excite suspicion against the sufficiency of the pre-emptor's residence and improvements, the benefit of the doubt was given and a rehearing granted. However, in 1889, the department finally canceled the entry. Eleven months later, July 10, 1889, D. M. Clough and wife, and D. M. Clough, as administrator of the estate of Gilbert Clough, quitclaimed a seven-twelfths interest in the land to Hartley, who then applied for another rehearing, alleging that the decision was unfair in law and equity, that the fraud shown was palpable.

"Being based upon testimony of a broken-down political place hunter and stage horse, the most of whose usefulness had been left at the other end of the route." The secretary does not stop to interpolate into the record, who it was so picturesquely described, but says: "Upon examination of this so-called appeal its real character stands revealed. Clough quitclaimed for $1 his right in the tract—while there was nothing to Hartley. Now Hartley, who has no interest in the tract, inasmuch as he could not purchase from Clough what Clough did not at the date of the sale possess, by this device attempts to secure a review and reversal of the department decisions, which long before the inception of his less than tenuous claim through the quitclaim deed had become res adjudicata. Such a proceeding cannot be allowed. Said decision is affirmed."

As Long As You Live

You will regret it, if you fail to see the World's Fair at Chicago. Every one who has visited it says it is the grandest and most beautiful display of the products of science, art and industry that mankind has ever seen, and beside it all previous "world's fairs" sink into insignificance. It represents an expenditure of two hundred millions of dollars, and we shall not look upon its like again in this generation. Only three short weeks remain in which you will have the opportunity to visit it. To see, even for a week, this World's Fair, is to supplement your education, no matter how good it may have been with invaluable information. Rates of fare are very low, and you can live in Chicago as cheaply as anywhere in America. You cannot afford to miss the fair. Get ready to go soon, and then ask your home ticket agent for tickets reading via "The Burlington," the great scenic, vestibule, compartment car, free reclining chair car, and dining car line, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

Disappointed His Hearers.

"Gentlemen," cried the street fakir of the season as he hurriedly scanned the horizon for the police, and got on a box by the gutter, "gentlemen, I have here a dead sure cure for all snake bites, insect bites, tarantula bites, scorpion stings."

The crowd collected thick and fast about the box.

"Yes, sir," said the fakir, "this bottle, and he waved a flask containing red liquor in the air over the heads of the enthusiastic throng, "this bottle contains a dead sure cure for snake bites."

Several men on the outskirts of the crowd began to feel in their pockets. "And I am selling it at actually less than cost!"

A half dozen tried to struggle through the surging throng, with their money in their hands.

"It is composed of distilled water and bromide of potassium, and is guaranteed."

But he was talking to a street full of people tinged with stale disgust. Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

Those Chippewa Examiners.

The Crookston Times, a staunch democratic paper, has the following to say of the examiners of the Chippewa pine lands:

But three or four of the eighteen examiners are competent; that a large number of them are drunk, worthless fellows who have spent most of the four months since their appointment loafing about Crookston and other towns, "drinking, carousing and making themselves common nuisances."

Only a day or two ago the spectacle of these men rolling about the streets shouting that they "was a rebel from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet, and would always continue so," was witnessed by our citizens. One of them wound up a week's debauch in a fit of delirium tremens in the lock-up; others borrowed money and did not repay it; gave checks on banks were they had no funds, and otherwise evaded the role of dead beats.

The force is without discipline. Sometimes half the men are away for weeks. The chief examiner allows them to do as they please. Each man is allowed to come and go as he pleases, and do just as he likes. The chief examiner spends his time talking politics and having a good time at Thief River Falls, having one of the men as a clerk and another as a messenger. These men are paid $6 a day for their work. They are engaged in estimating the quantity of pine on the reservation so that the land officers, when it is sold, may have some means of knowing if the offers are near the real value of the pine. The proceeds, after paying all these expenses, form a fund for the use of the Chippewas. The examiners are paid out of this fund.

The union employees on Tom Lowery's street car system are on a strike.

Happiness at Home.

There are many differences of opinion in regard to what constitutes true enjoyment, but all agree that after long pursuit of it we may return to find it "under our noses."

McElroy Will Meet Gleason.
Jim McElroy returned from Minneapolis last night. He did not succeed in getting a match on with "Shadow" Maber, as was expected. However, a match has been arranged between Mac and Tom Gleason. The latter has a good reputation, and will undoubtedly make a good fight. The place of meeting has not yet been decided upon.—Little Falls Transcript.

Win. McGuire, of Royalton, who recently had his ankle broken in a prize fight in this city, was in town today.
He is able to walk around, but is not entirely well yet.—Transcript.
On Wednesday a special carrying a large party of German capitalists who are heavily interested in the Northern Pacific road, passed through Brainerd on a tour of inspection.
Wilmer Holmes is enjoying a visit from his two brothers, Millard and Emery, and their families, who have formerly resided in Missouri, but who will hereafter make Brainerd their home.
For an evening of continuous laughter there is nothing to be compared with that furnished of all refined comedies "Incoq." Sleeper Opera House, Thursday evening, Nov. 2nd.
Prices reduced to 25, 50 and 75c.

Escaping steam from a boiler in a blacksmith shop on 4th street was mistaken for smoke yesterday morning, and an alarm of fire was sent in.
The boys had just as soon turn out to a fire as not, but they don't relish being fooled.

HENRY I. COHEN.
The remains of Henry Rogers were shipped to Minneapolis on Wednesday morning. Deceased was a brakeman on the N. P. road, and was caught between the cars at Wadena the latter part of last week, and terribly crushed. He was brought to the Sanitarium in this city where he lived until Tuesday night. He was unmarried.
The people of Morrison county and especially the city of Little Falls, are to be congratulated over the result of the bond election on Monday, at which time the bonds were voted by over 1200 majority, twenty of the twenty-six precincts being carried. The result is due mainly to the gentlemanly campaign, and the efforts of the Daily Transcript. Bro. Fuller is entitled to much credit.
Mrs. J. S. Gardner, of this city, who has been visiting in New York for some months, was on the ill-fated train on the Michigan Central road that was wrecked Oct. 14th, but left it at Danville, although that was not the original intention. He two coun-sins were also aboard and they journeyed on and were both killed. Had Mrs. Gardner followed out her original intention she would undoubtedly have met the same fate.

Escaped the Gallows.
The jury in the case of the state vs.
Hum Hong and Hum Wing Sing, after being out 24 hours, brought in a verdict on Saturday last, of murder in the third degree. For this offense the judge can sentence them to 30 years in state's prison, or make the penalty as light as seven years. The sentence, however, will not be pronounced until Nov. 2nd, at which time a hearing on a motion from the defendant's attorneys will be had, in regard to the indictment, which they claim is defective. If the point is well taken it forever places the Chinamen out of the reach of the law, as far as this case is concerned, and they will be liberated; if not, then Judge Holland will pronounce sentence on them and they will be sent to Stillwater where they undoubtedly belong.
It is stated that the prisoners were very much elated over the verdict, and when informed what the jury had done and the penalty for the crime in that degree, the taller one of the two exclaimed: "No hangie now." He evidently had almost felt the rope around his neck.

The Catholic Fair a Success.
The attendance at the annual fair of St. Francis Catholic church, now in progress at the rink, has been very gratifying so far, but tonight and Saturday night will be the banner evenings in point of attendance. There are many attractions among which is the chair to be voted to the most popular lady, a silk dress to the most popular little girl and a ring to the most popular young lady of the congregation, an overcoat being the contest on for the boys.
A very excellent supper is being served each evening, an oyster supper being on the bill of fare for tonight.
Music and various entertainment is furnished for the visitors, while the display of work by the ladies is worth going to see alone.

lent assortment of Ladies' and Chil-

Thursday, October 26th, 1893, by
M. McFadden, judge of probate, J. B.
Sargent and Miss Belle Roston.
The bride and groom resided at Gull Lake and are well known to most of our readers. Mr. Sargent is a retired gentleman of wealth, and owns a large tract of land on the east shore of Gull Lake, on which he has a fine summer resort, and at which place he has spent the summers during the past ten years. The bride is a niece of John Roston, of Gull Lake, and is a lady of refinement, who will grace her new home with a queenly air. The DISPATCH extends congratulations.

gers on this noon's train. Mrs. Farrar will join a party at the above place and visit the world's fair before her return.
Mrs. A. McLaughlin, after spending some weeks with relatives in this city returned to her home at Spokane Falls last evening. A reception was tendered her at the residence of her sister, Mrs. J. N. Nevers, on Wednesday evening.
T. R. Congdon, the artist, who formerly lived in Brainerd, has been spending several days here this week.
Mr. Congdon and wife will sail from New York for Paris about the 10th of next month, where they expect to reside for three years. The gentleman has met with great success in his profession.
The teachers present at the county teacher's meeting last Saturday formed a teacher's reading circle. County Superintendent Wilson, according to the rules of the state association, was made manager. Miss Maggie Risk was elected secretary, and Miss Inez Eastman, critic. The work selected to be read first was Bernard's History of England. The next meeting of the circle will be held on the first or second Saturday of December.
The Northfield News furnishes something for the ladies to work on as follows: Take a leaf of a tree or shrub, place it on a small piece of white linen soaked in spirits of nitre and insert between the leaves of a heavy book with a sheet of paper to receive the impression. Lay the book aside for a few days and then examine. The leaf will be devoid of color, which will have been transferred to the paper in all the original beauty of tint and outline of leaf.

terest in low prices. We make them

HENRY I. COHEN.
James G. Dickson, special government agent, was in the city Monday with his party bound for White Oak Point for the purpose of paying off the Indians at that place. It is rumored that the Mille Lacs will also be paid this trip, but it is hardly thought probable, as the government desires their removal to White Earth before giving them their annuities which are now three years behind.

A Narrow Escape.
The morning train from the west
was five hours late on Monday, and pulled in just behind No. 6 from the same direction. Quite a large crowd of people were on the platform between the two tracks, and as No. 12 came in several people crossed over in front of it to the platform proper.
Among them was a young man, a Scandinavian, whose name we could not learn. As he appeared to be in no hurry several people yelled at him, as he evidently did not see the incoming train. This did not help the matter, for he looked in all directions to see what the trouble, and before he could find out the engine struck him.
Engineer Coventry was running slow, however, and the fellow grabbed hold of the pilot and rolled out onto the platform escaping injury excepting a punctured heel. No one who saw the fellow go down expected he would get out of it without the loss of a leg at least. It was indeed a very narrow escape.

The anniversary entertainment given by A. O. U. W. lodge No. 47 at Gardner hall last evening was a very brilliant affair, over 400 people being present. A very fine programme was presented after which a bounteous supper was served. The floor was then cleared and dancing was indulged in.
Those who were fortunate enough to be present will long remember the occasion.

HENRY I. COHEN.
As an appetizer to the menu of higher laughter which he afterwards serves in "Incoq," Mr. Charles Dickson, when he appears at the Sleeper Opera House, on Thursday, Nov. 2nd, will offer a new curtain raiser, entitled "The Salt Cellar." This is a domestic glimpse in one act, from the German of C. A. Gerner, by Henry Doblin, and relates in a quantity humorous manner the experiences which befall a newly married couple. It transpires that they have, in their ignorance of the many trials and tribulations which beset the nuptial path, vowed never, not even "hardly ever"
to quarrel, but alas for their estate dreams of idyllic bliss, their little heaven of harmony is shattered by the overturning of an inoffensive salt cellar, for the wife's superstition being aroused by this accident, there ensues, notwithstanding all her husband's efforts to avert it, a most violent altercation. Besides appearing in "Incoq" Mr. Dickson will also enact a role in this little skit, thus giving his many admirers a chance to see him in two parts. He will be assisted in this by Miss Burkhardt and Mr.
Yorke.

The remains of Henry Rogers were shipped to Minneapolis on Wednesday morning. Deceased was a brakeman on the N. P. road, and was caught between the cars at Wadena the latter part of last week, and terribly crushed. He was brought to the Sanitarium in this city where he lived until Tuesday night. He was unmarried.

The people of Morrison county and especially the city of Little Falls, are to be congratulated over the result of the bond election on Monday, at which time the bonds were voted by over 1200 majority, twenty of the twenty-six precincts being carried. The result is due mainly to the gentlemanly campaign, and the efforts of the Daily Transcript. Bro. Fuller is entitled to much credit.

Mrs. J. S. Gardner, of this city, who has been visiting in New York for some months, was on the ill-fated train on the Michigan Central road that was wrecked Oct. 14th, but left it at Danville, although that was not the original intention. He two companions were also aboard and they journeyed on and were both killed. Had Mrs. Gardner followed out her original intention she would undoubtedly have met the same fate.

Escaped the Gallows.

The jury in the case of the state vs. Hum Hong and Hum Wing Sing, after being out 24 hours, brought in a verdict on Saturday last, of murder in the third degree. For this offense the judge can sentence them to 30 years in state prison, or make the penalty as light as seven years. The sentence, however, will not be pronounced until Nov. 2nd, at which time a hearing on a motion from the defendant's attorneys will be had, in regard to the indictment, which they claim is defective. If the point is well taken it forever places the Chinamen out of the reach of the law, as far as this case is concerned, and they will be liberated; if not, then Judge Holland will pronounce sentence on them and they will be sent to Stillwater where they undoubtedly belong. It is stated that the prisoners were very much elated over the verdict, and when informed what the jury had done and the penalty for the crime in that degree, the taller one of the two exclaimed: "No hangin' now." He evidently had almost felt the rope around his neck.

The Catholic Fair a Success.

The attendance at the annual fair of St. Francis Catholic church, now in progress at the rink, has been very gratifying so far, but tonight and Saturday night will be the banner evenings in point of attendance. There are many attractions among which is the chair to be voted to the most popular lady, a silk dress to the most popular little girl and a ring to the most popular young lady of the congregation, an overcoat being the contest on for the boys.

A very excellent supper is being served each evening, an oyster supper being on the bill of fare for tonight.

Music and various entertainment is furnished for the visitors, while the display of work by the ladies is worth going to see alone.

The authoress of "Incoq," that furiously funny comedy which Mr. Charles Dickson will present at the Sleeper Opera House on Nov. 2nd, next Thursday, is Mrs. Pacheco, the wife of the Hon. Romualdo Pacheco, who during his political career in California, held in succession very important positions in the state government, including the gubernatorial chair, and who is now United States minister at Guatemala and the Central American republics generally.

Mrs. Pacheco is a lady who has read many books and talked cleverly to the wise men of the nation. She has dropped some of them into her play, and as the play shows, very successfully. During her stay in Washington she saw much of political life, and was as popular there as she always has been in California. Six years ago she accompanied her husband to Mexico, and resided at the capital of that republic for two years. It was while in the City of Mexico that she wrote "Incoq," a play destined to make her famous as a playwright, and to lay the foundation of Mr. Dickson's fortune, both financially and as a star.

Didn't Belong Here.

Birdie Temple, an inmate of Etta Baker's home of ill-fame, was taken ill Thursday and Dr. Kelly having been summoned he found her to be suffering from the effects of poisoning, the effects of which were apparent. After temporary treatment the girl was sent to St. Joseph's Hospital, and is now reported out of danger. Her parents, who are highly respected citizens of Brainerd, and from whom the girl ran away two years ago, arrived in St. Paul yesterday. It is not known how the poison came to be administered.—Minneapolis Times.

The Times is mistaken in crediting the girl up to this city as her home was in Breckenridge, where her parents reside.

James G. Dickson, special government agent, was in the city Monday with his party bound for White Point for the purpose of paying off the Indians at that place. A Narrow Escape.

The morning train from the west was five hours late on Monday, and pulled in just behind No. 6 from the same direction. Quite a large crowd of people were on the platform between the two tracks, and as No. 12 came in several people crossed over in front of it to the platform proper. Among them was a young man, a Scandinavian, whose name we could not learn. As he appeared to be in no hurry several people yelled at him, as he evidently did not see the incoming train. This did not help the matter, for he looked in all directions to see what the trouble, and before he could find out the engine struck him. Engineer Coventry was running slow, however, and the fellow grabbed hold of the pilot and rolled out onto the platform escaping injury excepting a pinched heel. No one who saw the fellow go down expected he would get out of it without the loss of a leg at least. It was indeed a very narrow escape.

Those who were fortunate enough to be present will long remember the occasion.

As an appetizer to the menu of hearty laughter which he afterwards serves in "Incoq," Mr. Charles Dickson, when he appears at the Sleeper Opera House, on Thursday, Nov. 2nd, will offer a new curtain raiser, entitled "The Salt Cellar." This is a domestic glimpse in one act, from the German of C. A. Gerner, by Henry Dohlin, and relates in a quaintly humorous manner the experiences which befall a newly married couple. It transpires that they have, in their ignorance of the many trials and tribulations which beset the nuptial path, vowed never, not even "hardly ever" to quarrel, but alas for their estate dreams of idyllic bliss, their little heaven of harmony is shattered by the overturning of an inoffensive salt cellar, for the wife's superstition being aroused by this accident, there ensues, notwithstanding all her husband's efforts to avert it, a most violent altercation. Besides appearing in "Incoq" Mr. Dickson will also enact a role in this little skit, thus giving his many admirers a chance to see him in two parts. He will be assisted in this by Miss Burkhardt and Mr. Yorke.

Emperor William should innocently send a visiting fleet to France just for the sake of seeing what manner of war it would receive at the hands of the Gauls.

Several turkeys were recently killed on Maj. Simons' plantation, near San Antonio, Tex. While being cleaned it was found that "their claws contained not less than 12 grains of gold."

And now Italy has been extending an effusive welcome to the British squadron in the Mediterranean. This international exchange of taffy for spiteful purposes has a silly look at this distance, doesn't it?

Many larvae of beetles and other insects are used for food; the bee gives honey and wax; the cocoon, mummy and cochineal; the Spanish fly, a blistering drug; the gall insects, an astringent, and the silk worm an article of dress.

South American ants have been known to construct a tunnel three miles in length, a labor for them proportionate to that which would be required for men to tunnel under the Atlantic from New York to London.

Among the Saxons a person accused of crime would clear himself by means of a duel. In the case of the Saxons induced two persons to come in and swear to his guilt, and that they did not believe him guilty.

The correspondents declare that the French festivities in honor of the Russian squadron mean war. Of course they do. It is a mighty time event in France or Germany that doesn't mean war—if the correspondents are to be believed.

Taking the length of the permanent waves of the surface of the globe at nearly 60,000 geographical miles, with a daily average of ten trains, it is estimated that the loss by wear and tear suffered each day by the metallic rails of the earth is about 900 tons.

It has been demonstrated by experiment that torpedo boats painted a dull green can escape detection even under the rays of powerful search lights. Dull green isn't a pretty color for a war vessel, but if it can beat the search light it will surely be used.

The cholera scare of the past two years has been a blessing in disguise to New York and Philadelphia. The annual death rate has decreased about 5 per cent by reason of improved sanitary regulations rendered necessary by the approach of the epidemic.

Civilization is dawning in Indiana. Five of the most talented and industrious whitepapers in that state have been sent to the penitentiary for whipping a woman. Now that the lee has been sailed, broken down and ready to catch about 1,000 of the gentry before the good work ceases.

A bed of coal has been discovered in Missouri which when burned emits neither smoke nor gas. If the fluid proves to be an extensive one, it will solve the smoke problem in our large cities, and put an end to the numerous fatal accidents resulting from the escape of gas from heating stoves.

Kaiser Wilhelm has become a milkman. The dairy product of the imperial farms is peddled about the streets of Berlin in competition with the lacinated merchandise of the humble dairyman in the vicinity. It must not be supposed that the emperor, that the emperor is a milk and water sort of fellow.

The second daughter of the prince of Wales has been betrothed to Grand Duke Nicholas, heir apparent to the throne of Russia. This will be the third matrimony of the prince, and the members of the reigning houses of Great Britain and Russia, and will no doubt strengthen the bonds of friendship between the two nations and form an additional guarantee of the continuation of peaceful relations.

A physician points out that fat people endure most kinds of illness much better than thin people, because they have an extra amount of nutriment stored away in their tissues to support them during the ordeal. Moreover, there are many other conditions for persons of abundant girth. They are generally optimistic by nature, genial and jolly companions, whose society is universally preferred to that of people with angular frames and dispositions.

The Tennessee method of adopting a rather radical method of increasing the price of cotton. They have begun the destruction of cotton gins all over the state, and threaten to reduce the number on-hand. By this means they will restrict the production of marketable cotton, and perhaps increase the price. The plan, if carried out, will no doubt be effective, but what will the owners of cotton that cannot be cleaned, because of the destruction of gins, think of the plan?

The Berlin papers affect to regard the demonstration of the Russian fleet in the Baltic as a political statement. The German government manifestly does not regard it, for the arsenals are kept working overtime, and the ships and crews are unusually crowded with work. The newspapers are but obeying the behests of the government in speaking lightly of the affair, in order to prevent public apprehension, but there is no indifference in government circles.

The French government has determined to suppress two new and peculiar industries. One is a process for turning all playing cards into new in order to prevent the heavy loss. The authorities have seized three such loaves, and the treasury has already lost $50,000 through their operations. The other trade is in renovated second-hand graveyards, which the French use extensively. The object of the latter reform is to stop the wholesale despoiling of cemeteries.

The longer a carpet is used in the coliers' department of the United States the more it is worth. Wear and tear do not diminish its value. Recently a thick woven carpet that had been on the coliers' floor for seven years was taken up and cremated. The ashes were gathered together, as if they were the relics of some departed saint, and by an elaborate refining process the government recovered gold worth $5,500. The metal had been deposited there by the infinitesimal abrasions and disintegrations of the yellow metal while being converted from billion into coin.

The remains of Henry Rogers were shipped to Minneapolis on Wednesday morning. Deceased was a brakeman on the N. The people of Morrison county and especially the city of Little Falls, are to be congratulated over the result of the bond election on Monday, at which time the bonds were voted by over 1200 majority, twenty of the twenty-six precincts being carried. The result is due mainly to the gentlemanly campaign, and the efforts of the Daily Transcript. Bro. Fuller is entitled to much credit.

Mrs. J. S. Gardner, of this city, who has been visiting in New York for some months, was on the ill-fated train on the Michigan Central road that was wrecked Oct. 14th, but left it at Danville, although that was not the original intention. He two companions were also aboard and they journeyed on and were both killed. Had Mrs. Gardner followed out her original intention she would undoubtedly have met the same fate.

Escaped the Gallows.

The jury in the case of the state vs. Hum Hong and Hum Wing Sing, after being out 24 hours, brought in a verdict on Saturday last, of murder in the third degree. For this offense the judge can sentence them to 30 years in state's prison, or make the penalty as light as seven years. The sentence, however, will not be pronounced until Nov. 2nd, at which time a hearing on a motion from the defendant's attorneys will be had, in regard to the indictment, which they claim is defective. If the point is well taken it forever places the Chinese out of the reach of the law, as far as this case is concerned, and they will be liberated; if not, then Judge Holland will pronounce sentence on them and they will be sent to Stillwater where they undoubtedly belong.

It is stated that the prisoners were very much elated over the verdict, and when informed what the jury had done and the penalty for the crime in that degree, the taller one of the two exclaimed: "No hangie now." He evidently had almost felt the rope around his neck.

The Catholic Fair a Success.

The attendance at the annual fair of St. Francis Catholic church, now in progress at the rink, has been very gratifying so far, but tonight and Saturday night will be the banner evenings in point of attendance. A very excellent supper is being served each evening, an oyster supper being on the bill of fare for tonight.

Music and various entertainment is furnished for the visitors, while the display of w. k. by the ladies is worth going to see alone.

The authoress of "Incoq," that furiously funny comedy which Mr. Charles Dickson will present at the Sleeper Opera House on Nov. 2nd, next Thursday, is Mrs. Pacheco, the wife of the Hon. Romualdo Pacheco, who during his political career in California, held in succession very important positions in the state government, including the gubernatorial chair, and who is now United States minister at Guatemala and the Central American republics generally. Mrs. Pacheco is a lady who has read many books and talked cleverly to all the wise men of the nation. She has dropped some of them into her play, and, as the play shows, very successfully. During her stay in Washington she saw much of political life, and was as popular there as she always has been in California. Six years ago she accompanied her husband to Mexico, and resided at the capital of that republic for two years. It was while in the City of Mexico that she wrote "Incoq" a play destined to make her famous as a playwright, and to lay the foundation of Mr. Dickson's fortune, both financially and as a star.

Didn't Belong Here.

Birdie Temple, an inmate of Etta Baker's home of ill-fame, was taken ill Thursday and Dr. Kelly having been summoned he found her to be suffering from the effects of poisoning, the effects of which were apparent. After temporary treatment the girl was sent to St. Joseph's Hospital, and is now reported out of danger. Her parents, who are highly respected citizens of Brainerd, and from whom the girl ran away two years ago, arrived in St. Paul yesterday. It is not known how the poison came to be administered.—Minneapolis Times.

The Times is mistaken in crediting the girl up to this city as her home was in Breckenridge, where her parents reside.

The Northfield News furnishes something for the ladies to work on as follows: Take a leaf of a tree or shrub, place it on a small piece of white linen soaked in spirits of nitre and insert between the leaves of a heavy book with a sheet of paper to receive the impression. Lay the book aside for a few days and then examine. The leaf will be devoid of color, which will have been transferred to the paper in all the original beauty of tint and outline of leaf.

A Narrow Escape.

The morning train from the west was five hours late on Monday, and pulled in just behind No. 6 from the same direction. Quite a large crowd of people were on the platform between the two tracks, and as No. 12 came in several people crossed over in front of it to the platform proper. Among them was a young man, a Scandinavian, whose name we could not learn. As he appeared to be in no hurry several people yelled at him, as he evidently did not see the incoming train. This did not help the matter, for he looked in all directions to see what the trouble, and before he could find out the engine struck him. Engineer Coventry was running slow, however, and the fellow grabbed hold of the pilot and rolled out onto the platform escaping injury excepting a pinched heel. No one who saw the fellow go down expected he would get out of it without the loss of a leg at least. It was indeed a very narrow escape.

Charming Dramatic Cantata.

Ruth, the Moabitess, will be rendered at the opera house on the evening of Nov. 10th, by local talent. The cantata is a very beautiful one, and a rare treat is in store for our theatre going people. The following is the cast: Naomi.....Mrs. H. Edwards Ruth.....Mrs. C. Altherton Boaz.....J. P. Alderman First Reaper.....J. P. Gardner Orpah.....Mrs. G. W. Alexander Jewish Maiden.....Miss Mabelle Davis Messenger.....A. E. Pennell Levite.....Miss May Campbell Assistant Reaper.....A. E. The anniversary entertainment given by A. O. U. W. lodge No. 47 at Gardner hall last evening was a very brilliant affair, over 400 people being present. A very fine programme was presented after which a bounteous supper was served. The floor was then cleared and dancing was indulged in. Those who were fortunate enough to be present will long remember the occasion.

HENRY I. COHEN.

As an appetizer to the menu of hearty laughter which he afterwards serves in "Incoq," Mr. Charles Dickson, when he appears at the Sleeper Opera House, on Thursday, Nov. 2nd, will offer a new curtain raiser, entitled "The Salt Cellar." This is a domestic glimpse in one act, from the German of C. A. Gerner, by Henry Doblin, and relates in a quaintly humorous manner the experiences which befall a newly married couple. It transpires that they have, in their ignorance of the many trials and tribulations which beset the nuptial path, vowed never, not even "hardly ever" to quarrel, but alas for their ecstatic dreams of ideal bliss, their little heaven of harmony is shattered by the overturning of an inoffensive salt cellar, for the wife's superstition, being aroused by this accident, there ensues, notwithstanding all her husband's efforts to avert it, a most violent altercation. Besides appearing in "Incoq" Mr. Dickson will also enact a role in this little skit, thus giving his many admirers a chance to see him in two parts. He will be assisted in this by Miss Barkhart and Mr. Yorke.
